HAPPY NEW YEAR
2025

To all members of the Blackwork Journey family
I wish you a happy, peaceful and creative 2025.

January 2025 - New year and new challenges!
The month of January is always a challenge for me with its cold dull days, rain and early darkness. However, it is a time for me to reflect on the past year and plan for my forthcoming workshops and talks. I also want to use this year to work through a number of my unfinished projects and use more of my stash rather than buy more threads and fabrics, other than for classes.

I also intend to do some housekeeping or decluttering as like many, I have accumulated an awful lot of books, magazines and materials over the years.

Sorting through some of the books and magazines again may well spark new ideas for future projects.

A magazine for example, may only have one article or pattern that is needed in which case, scanning the article and saving it on the hard drive of a computer can save a lot of space. Another option is to use on-line magazine subscriptions or an app such as "Readly" which gives access to a wide range of craft magazines for a small subscription.

Local craft groups or charity stores will often welcome craft magazines in good condition and if you have embroidery books that you no longer need there are often local groups where they would be welcome.

Invariably, you will have collected numerous threads and fabrics that have been left-over from projects and by sorting them into labelled bags they can often be used as gift tags, cards and other small projects where only a small amount of fabric is needed. If you have the time, you may even separate them into colour groups!

Think before you discard! Scraps can be used in so many ways. Fabric oddments were used to make a Japanese style boro bag for the band sampler which was worked in threads from other projects.

If you are into instant stitching, having several small projects in zip-lock bags to place in a handbag is a good idea. It is surprising just how much stitching can be worked in this way!

Do the same with scraps of patchwork fabric. Keep a pile of paper patchwork templates and sewing cotton in the same box for hand piercing. Old shoe boxes or plastic food containers can be used and are usually stackable. Label each one for instant use.

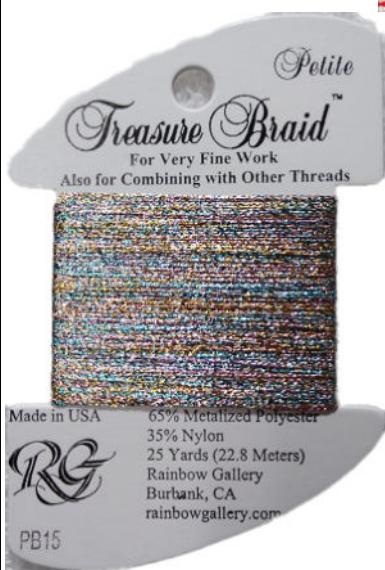

Planning to downsize?

Downsizing has become an issue for many members where they have moved into smaller houses or apartments. If the person is an avid crafter choosing what to "gift" or dispose of needs careful consideration. Some members have given away most of their stash only to regret their decision as being too hasty. Threads and fabric are expensive and replacing them may be an unnecessary expense. It may be worthwhile compiling a checklist of what you think you will use in the future by overestimating and then reconsidering once the move has been accomplished.

Bolton Stitch and Textile Group - "Stitch Along 2025"

Last month, I mentioned that I was creating a band sampler for my local textile group to commence of the 1st February. However, members of the Facebook groups indicated that they would also like to take part, so I have decided to extend the project to include the Facebook groups.

I have been busy over the last few months designing a band sampler which will include 85 different stitches. Every month a new colour from the colour wheel and new stitches will be introduced with numerous variations. By working the stitches you can expand your knowledge, use diverse types and thicknesses of threads and experiment! My local group have requested that I also produce a simplified version for the less experienced members which I have agreed to do.

Referring to my aim "Recycle, Reduce, Reuse" Explore your stash and find threads, colour types and thicknesses that you would like to use. The colours I have used are a guide to help those less confident in choosing colours. Whilst DMC stranded floss can be used throughout cotton Pérle No 8 and 12, crochet cotton and variegated threads can also be used. Collect two or three shades of each colour or take one strand of one colour and combine it with another colour to create additional variations.

The metallic threads I used were "Rainbow Gallery Petite Treasure Braid" PB01 Bright Gold and PB15 Light Multi in place of silver metallic thread. These metallic threads are a joy to stitch unlike many metallic threads which fray and split.

DMC Coloris variegated floss can also be used in this project or any other variegated threads such as Threadworx or Paintbox threads, but please check that the threads are colourfast.
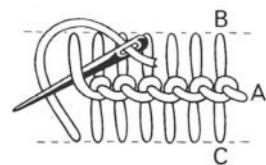

Band sampler - Sequence of working:
Parts 1 – 10 Embroidered stitches
Part 11 – Borders
Part 12 Making up.

Work in progress.

Loop stitch

Diagrams and photographs are included at each stage. Use these instructions to create new stitches.

Practise new stitches on a spare piece of fabric before adding them to the band sampler. Aida fabric will help to count and place the stitches correctly.

Shade Cards
It is possible to buy shade cards for the different thread ranges such as Anchor and DMC. I find them very useful when selecting colours for different projects. If possible, when buying shade cards, choose ones with actual thread samples as they are more accurate than printed ones.

DMC Coloris is an excellent range of six stranded variegated floss which I have used in many of my e-books.

My favourite DMC Coloris colours are 4518 Cottage, 4514 Venise and 4522 Nuit Canadienne. One strand of floss is usually used for blackwork designs on evenweave. Two strands are used for cross stitch.

If in doubt about the colour of the thread take one strand and lay it across the fabric. If it doesn't make an impact do not use it!

Shade Cards are covered by copyright, but it is possible to view them online. My advice if you use a specific brand of threads is to buy a shade card. DMC have updated their card recently and added new colours.

has a free printable DMC shade chart on their website which you can download. It has been added at the end of this Blog.

Blackwork Journey - Talks and Workshops 2024.

Over the past year I have worked with many different groups across the UK. Each one is different, but they all have a love of needlework in common. From "Manx Embroiderers and Stitchers" to "Keswick Stitchers" and my own local "Bolton Stitch and Textile Group" all of whom would not exist without the hard work and dedication of the committee and other members who organise their many activities throughout the year from publicity and membership to organising workshops and speakers.

I would like to personally thank all those dedicated members who have made my life so much easier over the past year or so and I very much look forward to working with you all again!

DMC Floss Color Chart

These page give you a color picture of the DMC floss colors arranged in color families (not by color number). The picture comes from DMC thread color book. Although not exact, the colors are fairly accurate. Remember that the colors you will see depend greatly on the quality and calibration of your computer screen or printer. The picture is made up of high resolution scans that have been converted in PhotoShop to a lower resolution .jpg file. The pictures do not include the 27 new colors added early 2002.

This color chart is handy if you want to change colors in a chart. For example, say you want to change part of a design from red to blue. The red in the design has shadowing (red with 2 shades of darker red to create the shadow or texture). An easy way to convert to blues would be to pick all the shades of blue from the same family.

To find a particular color number in the color chart use the color table below. The table gives the column to find the color number.

Our web site yarntree.com also has conversion charts for Anchor to DMC, and DMC to Anchor
